NEW TRADER INFORMATION PACK

Starting out

Casual or new traders should always make contact with Newent Town Council in the first instance by phone

A trader is unlikely to get a regular stall or pitch on the markets without first attending as a casual. Regular traders enjoy certain privileges that casual traders do not. However, some traders prefer to operate on a casual basis indefinitely.

We will discuss the requirements of both the trader and those of Newent Town Council. Most authorities have a method of stall letting, basically the longer you attend the more chance you have of being allocated a regular stall or pitch when one becomes available. The exceptions to this are if you are selling a line of goods that might clash with another trader.

We will consider this and might place such traders as far apart as possible or the casual trader may be placed on the waiting list until such time as a stall becomes available.

Deciding what to sell

The Town Council are happy to advise which lines already exist, thus allowing new traders some guidance in their choice of goods.

Hot food retailers are welcome, but need to satisfy that their items are sufficiently unique and are not currently available elsewhere in Newent. Particular attention should be given to interesting ethnic items. Commonly available items such as burgers or hot-dogs would not be considered.

The Town Council will assess all completed application forms received and will notify the applicant/applicants of their decision when made.

Public Liability & Trade Goods Insurance

All traders must be covered by insurance for Public Liability. Current valid insurance certificates should always be carried by traders, for inspection by the Town Council staff.

Newent Town Council requires traders to indemnify the Council from and against all claims, demands, proceedings, damages, costs, charges and expenses.

The minimum amount of public liability insurance should be for £5,000,000 (5 million).

Insurance cover of this type can be obtained via membership of The National Market Traders Federation www.nmtf.co.uk Membership of this organisation is not compulsory. Alternatively, independent specialist insurance advice can be found.

Health & Safety

Each Stall holder is responsible for their own stall and must carry out a Risk assessment prior to trading, and a copy must be given to the Town Council to hold on file, it is the responsibility of the trader to ensure the risk assessment is kept up to date and any amendments are completed and a copy is provided to the Town Council.

Accounts & VAT & Legal Obligations

All income needs to be accounted for. You may find it necessary to register for VAT dependent on turnover, to be paid to HM Revenue and Customs.

See <http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/vat/start/register/when-to-register.htm> or <http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/sa/register.htm> for further information.

A market trader must also be aware of other statutory legislation applicable to him or her.

Food Safety

Food retailers should familiarise themselves with current practices and procedures and legislation regarding food preparation, especially in relation to labelling and packaging etc.

Please refer and familiarise yourself to the relevant regulations applicable, and read the points below:

Registration of Food Premises – you must be registered with the local authority where your business is based i.e where you produce, store or prepare the food, or where you store a vehicle/unit

1. Correct transportation of food
2. Provision of hand washing facilities where appropriate
3. Correct storage and display of food
4. Temperature control
5. Design and cleanliness of stall/unit
6. Personal hygiene
7. waste storage Food Hygiene training as appropriate
8. For further information and advice please contact Environmental Health.

Customer Returns

If an article is brought back that is faulty or damaged or not fit for the purpose for which it was sold, then the trader must rectify the matter either by exchanging the goods, giving a credit note or a full cash refund, but remember whatever method, is used it is the customer's choice.

Often goods may be returned that are not faulty, but the customer has found out it was not really what they wanted, or in the case of clothing, it does not quite fit. In this case there is no obligation to make the matter right, but if you feel the reason is genuine, then in the long term it might be better to offer an exchange or refund. You may lose a sale, but you have built some goodwill, and the customer will be more likely to return again.

Trade Descriptions

1. All items on sale must be clearly priced.
2. Items that are legally required to be sold by weight eg. cheese, meat, most fruit and vegetables must have a metric unit price (price per kg) displayed, whether sold pre-packed or loose. If pre-packed the goods must also be marked with the weight and selling price of the pack.
3. All weighing scales used for determining the selling price of goods must be stamped.
4. No signs or notices should be displayed that attempt to restrict a consumer's statutory rights.
5. A consumer's statutory rights are that goods must be of reasonable quality, fit for purpose and as described.
6. Food offered for sale must comply with statutory labelling requirements and compositional standards.

These conditions are in no way intended to be a comprehensive summary of all relevant legal requirements.
